I. POLICY

It is the policy of Wraparound Milwaukee/REACH/O-YEAH/Family Intervention Support & Services (FISS) that individuals in need of Employment Preparation and Placement Services receive these services per the established guidelines.

This service is designed to assist the Service Recipient with acquiring permanent paid employment. Payment for Employment Preparation and Placement services is “outcome based” with reimbursement being made upon achievement of each of three (3) phases or milestones. Duration of the service (three (3) phases combined) is anticipated to be six (6) months or less.

II. PROCEDURE

A. Definitions.

1. Employment Preparation and Placement Services

Employment Preparation and Placement Services are provided to a Wraparound, REACH/O-YEAH or FISS enrollee age 15-1/2 or older, or in rare cases, the parent or guardian of an enrollee, who is in need of assistance with obtaining and sustaining employment. Employment Preparation and Placement Services includes three phases:

- a. Phase One is Assessment and Employment Plan.
- b. Phase Two is Job Development and Acquisition.
- c. Phase Three is Post Placement Support.

Providers of Employment Preparation and Placement Services must offer all three phases of this service.

The Direct Service Provider’s role is to provide vocational and functional assessments, soft skill training, career planning, job exploration and placement, perform job searches and engage the client in interviewing and resume writing/skill development, and to provide post placement follow up support. Employment must be permanent, versus temporary or seasonal, unless explicitly identified on the Plan of Care and Referral Form. Upon completion of the service, electronic and printer copies of a resume must be made available to the Service Recipient. While the Service Recipient is enrolled in this service, Providers will attend all Plan of Care and Child & Family Team meetings. If at any point, 30 days elapse of no contact with the Service Recipient, the Provider will contact the Care Coordinator to discontinue services.

Employment Preparation and Placement Services must be reflected in the Service Recipient’s Plan of Care (for Wraparound/REACH/O-YEAH) or the Treatment Plan (for FISS).

2. Phase One: Assessment and Employment Plan

Service Components: Assessment, Employment Plan and Pre-Employment Training.

Phase One must include a minimum of eight attempted (scheduled) face-to-face meetings. The Assessment and Employment Plan may include a formal interview and/or completion of a formal written Assessment used to assess the Service Recipient’s needs. The Assessment and Employment Plan must be signed by the parent/guardian, as appropriate. In addition to providing skill training, pre-employment training sessions may be used as a method of determining what assistance the Service

Recipient may require to obtain employment. If the Provider determines that the Service Recipient is not suitable for Phase Two and Three, a description must be provided of the reasons why, as well as recommendations for becoming suitable for employment. A Service Recipient can only be determined unsuitable for Phases Two and Three on the basis of being unwilling or unable to meet participation requirements, and cannot be determined unsuitable on the basis of functional level alone. Payment for Phase One may occur if fewer than eight (8) face-to-face meetings occur if:

1) Service Recipient chooses not to continue services. If Service Recipient shows a pattern of non-participation, Agency must make multiple documented attempts to reengage with Service Recipient using other Child & Family Team members, if necessary.

Or

2) If Service Recipient is determined job ready and begins employment before the completion of Phase One services. However, Agency is still responsible for documenting Phase One activities in Synthesis via Phase One report.

Pre-Employment Training – As part of the Assessment Process, the Provider may begin training in the following areas in order to determine the Service Recipient’s level of commitment, abilities and employment related training needs. This training may include the following topics:

- Attendance and punctuality.
- Personal appearance; grooming, hygiene, appropriate workplace dress, value of first impressions.
- Communication and dispute resolution.
- Networking.
- Filling out a job application.
- Resume creation.
- Obtaining references.
- Marketing oneself to an employer; identifying personal strengths and assets.
- Dealing with an arrest and conviction record.
- Employer expectations.
- Taking time off.
- Getting to and from the job.
- What to expect when you get your first check (i.e., taxes and other withholdings).
- Management of Service Recipient needs other than the above that were identified during the Assessment process.

Outcome: Report identifying the Service Recipient’s aptitudes, interests, limitations, job goals and steps necessary to achieve job goals.

3. Phase Two: Job Development and Acquisition

Service Components: If, after 12 weeks, the Service Recipient has not obtained employment, the Provider is to contact the Care Coordinator to assess whether or not the Service Recipient is likely to benefit from continuing services.

Phase Two - Job Development and Acquisition Services may include:

- Continuation of “Pre-Employment Training” activities from Phase One.
- Identification of potential jobs and/or employers that have new or imminent job openings that are consistent with the Service Recipient’s job goal(s) and abilities.
- Job search activities performed on behalf of the Service Recipient.
- Pre-employment contact by Provider with potential employers to identify job opportunities that are relevant to the Service Recipient.
- Negotiation of job restructuring and/or job creation for the Service Recipient with a potential employer.
- Activity associated with the development of the employer’s capacity to provide “natural supports” to aid the Service Recipient in job retention (natural supports are employer resources/personnel who can offer job training, support, mentoring and encouragement to the new employee).

- Obtaining and completing job applications.
- Accompanying the Service Recipient to job interviews.
- Accompanying the Service Recipient to job interviews.
- Service Recipient specific pre-employment counseling and advocacy services.

Phase Two - Job Development and Acquisition services must include:

- Development of a resume that offers a chronological summary of the Service Recipient’s work history (if previously employed) and/or highlights relevant Service Recipient skills and abilities (functional resume). The resume should emphasize credible experiences such as school activities and accomplishments, volunteer work at home and in the community, including caregiver responsibilities, odd jobs and community and church related work/responsibilities. An electronic copy of the resume is to be given to the Service Recipient before the Employment Preparation and Placement service ends.

Outcome: Service Recipient obtains job.

4. Phase Three: Post Placement Support

Service Components – if the Service Recipient is unsuccessful in retaining employment for 60 days, either due to voluntary or involuntary separation, the Provider is to contact the Care Coordinator to assess whether or not the Service Recipient is likely to benefit from continuing services. If the Service Recipient loses employment by no fault of their own (illness, injury, layoff, etc.) before 60 days, service reauthorization for Phase Two may be considered.

Phase Three – Post Placement Support services may include:

- Orientation of the Service Recipient/employee to his/her new job.
- Assistance and direction regarding management of transportation needs.
- Monitoring of job attendance, productivity and socialization (getting along with others on the job).
- Monitoring employer satisfaction with the Service Recipient/employee’s job performance.
- Assisting the Service Recipient with opening a bank account.
- Consultation with the employer regarding development of natural supports within the workplace in order to promote satisfactory job performance and sustained employment with the goal of “fading” the need for job support from the Provider, as the Service Recipient/employee independence increases and the benefit of natural supports is realized.

Outcome: Service Recipients retain employment and are fully integrated into the workplace.

C. Documentation and Reimbursement

Reimbursement for Employment Preparation and Placement Services is outcome based. Upon achievement of an identified "milestone", payment for services for the corresponding "Phase" (One, Two or Three) will be processed when the report associated with the service "Phase" has been entered into Synthesis.

DOCUMENTATION REQUIREMENTS BY "PHASE" ARE AS FOLLOWS:

Phase One: Assessment and Employment Plan

1. Synthesis Reports

The Direct Service Provider is to complete the "Employment Preparation and Placement Service – Phase One Assessment and Employment Plan Report" in Synthesis that includes:

- a. Assessment Summary – a description of the Assessment that was used to identify the Service Recipient's strengths and needs (observation, paper and pencil testing, simulated work experiences, job site tours, etc.). A summary of the Service Recipient's level of formal education, areas of interest, specific job preferences and objections, limitations (physical, emotional, etc.), employment skills and training, past and current employment history, financial needs, location of current residence, transportation needs, willingness and ability to use public transportation, hours available for work, geographic preferences, other strengths, weaknesses and preferences as they relate to employment, and literacy and other basic academic skills. The Assessment Summary should also include all dates for which the Service Recipient was scheduled and seen. If the Provider determines that the Service Recipient is not suitable for Employment Preparation and Placement, a description should be provided of the reasons why, as well as recommendations for becoming suitable for employment.

- b. Employment Plan – if the recommendation is for the Service Recipient to continue to Phase Two: Job Development and Acquisition, the Assessment Summary will conclude with an “Employment Plan”, which identifies a minimum of three job goals, in order of preference. The job goals must reflect the Service Recipient’s employment related preferences and constraints as identified in the Assessment. The written plan identifies the course of action that will be taken to assist the Service Recipient in achieving identified job goals, and specifically identifies the role and responsibilities of the Service Recipient and Provider.
2. A hard copy of the Assessment Summary and Employment Plan Report, signed by the Service Recipient (if an adult) or parent/guardian (if the Service Recipient is a minor) must be retained in the Provider’s client file.

1. Synthesis Reports
 - a. If 30 days elapse without an employment start date, and every 30 days thereafter until placement, a monthly summary report of activities engaged in must be completed in Synthesis.

2. A hard copy of the Employment Verification Report, signed by the employer, must be retained in the Provider’s client file.

Phase Three: Post Placement Support

1. Synthesis Reports.
 - a. After 30 days of employment, a monthly summary report of activities engaged in must be completed in Synthesis.

2. A hard copy of the Employment Retention Report, signed by the employer, must be retained in the Provider’s client file.

Note: There is NO provision for the identified Service Recipient to repeat any of the Employment Preparation and Placement Phases, resulting in payment to the Provider Agency/Direct Service Provider more than once for the same “Phase”.
